

DSE Display Screen Equipment Challenge

Our online Display Screen Equipment Challenge course explores the importance of DSE and correctly set up workstations

Course Overview

We spend a lot of time at our desks. It's essential our computers and workstations are set up to avoid aches and pains, and ultimately long-term musculoskeletal disorders.

Our Display Screen Equipment Challenge course covers the risks associated with display screen equipment and what both employees and managers can do to reduce them. Whether you work in an office, at home or on the move, you need to think about DSE.

Meet David as he sets up his work environment. Spot the hazards and help him make the right decisions, keeping his risk-o-meter in the green to pass!

Key Learning Points

- The risks of long-term DSE use
- The importance of setting up DSE correctly
- What managers need to do to protect their workers
- What employees can do to protect themselves
- The importance of good posture, exercise and working environments
