

Accountability (GDPR)

Mitigate the risks of data breaches and ensure accountability with GDPR compliance

Course Overview

This online training course explores the obligations for accountability under the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and what it means for organisations affected by it. The course is designed to educate members of staff on their responsibilities when developing new products and services and ensuring compliance with GDPR.

The course also covers what a Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) is and when one should be performed, what to do in the event of a data breach and the consequences of non-compliance with the GDPR and potential penalties.

Also described are the various measures organisations can take to protect against data breaches and non-compliance under GDPR.

Key Learning Points

- How to demonstrate accountability
- How to uphold the principles of the GDPR
- How to comply with your legal obligations
- What is meant by privacy by design and default
- Protecting personal data and minimising intrusions on privacy
